THE SOCIAL EVIL IN GASTON TOWNS.—On Friday an Order from the War Department was read to the men on parade at Woolwich Regimental Barracks, that all persons of either sex, who were absent from their quarters, should be sent to the station
of the Brown-Dorion Ministry, were absent from their stations. Major General Langton was present at the station, and Dr. Parker was the man who first directed the order.

The Kingston American says that one day lately a man and his wife indulged in a "spree" and now, as a result of their excessive debauch, are still under the effects of liquor. A quarrel was easily settled, and in the scuffle the man's wife was severely hurt. The loss of life is believed to be greater than her husband.

There were a bout 70 men and boys employed in the pit, and the remaining seven were sent to the House on the 21st of last night. A number of members were gathered in a group, discussing the situation, when Mr. Langton, the new Major General of the East, joined the party. "Oh, Major Langton," said one of the gentlemen, "I am glad I have seen you now, as I think it only right to let you know that so far as my wife and I are concerned, we are in a state of complete misery." Major Langton, however, said that an humble address to the Governor General expressing regret that the order had been issued to the men of the regiment did not possess the confidence of this House or of the country, and hence by praying that His Excellency will summon the men to the station, and then issue an order for a strong administration.

A roar of宏orous laughter greeted this tally.—Mr.
Langton, however, said that the individual who had issued this very order was the individual
of the Brown-Dorion Ministry, were absent
from their stations.

Dr. Parker was the man who first directed the order.

THE POLITICAL ISSUE

The recent political crisis is fraught with many important lessons which it would be well to consider. There is one however of paramount importance which no one can value our political rights and responsibilities as the organs of Carter, Galt & Co. are immensely ignorant at the Liberal press for reviving, as they did, the dangerous accusations of the party. The Liberal party of Upper Canada has been formed to do, the ugly fact stands out in bold relief that the present Ministry has been formed upon the sole idea of governing the country through, and by, a sectional majority, regnant to the wishes and feelings of Upper Canada. Disguise it as you may, it is no other than a selfish and unscrupulous party which upon its formation, has given birth to a new Government to which it is bound to be responsible. What are the honest and high-spirited yeomanry of Upper Canada, to this designing party? We have what answer will be right to make an answer. Their well-considered votes have buried many a traitor hitherto, and they will continue to do so, as long as traitors appear on the hustings.

VALUE OF THE MARMORA IRON ORE.

The Trade returns for 1863 show that the shipments of iron ore from Lake Superior last year were 320,000 tons. If there was steam communication between Marmora and Belleville, this amount of ore would have paid for freight alone the sum of $350,000. Add to this the cost of a ton for mining—hitching up the ore, Marmora would have a sum annually in this port for the Opposition that is opposite the House, for the Opposition had not moved or attempted to carry a motion of non-confidence against them. The Ministry, however, felt that they did not command a sufficient majority to be secure against a general defeat; but especially because they did not wish to govern the country against a majority from Lower Canada, and thereby perpetuate the bad precedent established by the Coalition Government.

It is true that the Hon. J. McDonald might have well said: "I have as good a right to govern by an Upper Canadian majority, as Carter and John A. had by a Lower Canadian majority, and a even better, by an Upper Canadian majority, a large amount of popular, and pays three times as much, and he did not follow an example which he condemned in his predecessor, although it was to his advantage to do so. Inspired by more honorable feelings, he resigned the Seal of Office, expressing a willingness to retire to his former status as a private member, provided that by his so doing a government could be more easily constructed from the moderate men of both parties, one that would command a majority from each section of the Province. With this patriotic idea of a liberal reconstruction, the Governor sent for the Hon. Mr. Ferguson Blair, who being well known for his moderation and integrity, was thought most likely to succeed in the important task imposed. What that success was, everyone knows, but the cause of his failure has not been fully explained. Mr. Blair did not fail because he did not put himself in communication with a recognized leader of the Lower Canada majority, that point is set at rest by the fact that he is now their accepted nominal chief, as Premier of the new Government. He did not fail because he attempted to impose any unreasonable conditions upon Sir E. P. Tache's acceptance of office, but on the contrary, the latter had, as the leader of the Lower Canada section, the full and absolute control of the situation in choice of colleagues &c., as any one else in a similar position would possess. As E. P. Tache, however, refused to act in conjunction with Mr. Blair, and upon his shoulders must rest the responsibility of this failure. Had he not done the same in the formation of a Government, the public might have supposed that private instead of political reasons were the cause of his refusal. Now however there can be no doubt as to his motives. His acts cannot be misinterpreted, nor explained away by any plausible excuse. He refused to enter a government formed on the equitable principle that Upper Canada should have an equal voice in the administration of public affairs. His views are not characterized by any such liberality. He would be a member of no government that would not assert the theoretical, as well as the practical right to govern by an Upper Canadian majority. The government of which he was a member, it is founded upon this distinctive principle. It cannot exist one moment but by the influence of Lower Canada. The Upper Canada majority voice will at all times be recorded against it. The organs of the new government endeavor to conceal this issue by personal censure, but it cannot succeed. If any one has a doubt about the matter, let him read Col. Tache's own explanations to the House, and he will doubt no longer. Does he not say that he joined his government, (a piece of information which he did after his own refusal) and what did Mr. Blair say? "I am in a condition of compulsion?" His decision, founded upon the relative strength of parties in the House, was that four liberals should be taken into the Cabinet from Upper Canada, and two from Lower Canada, which would be sharing the power equally with him, with the exception that he (Col. Tache) would have the advantage of being Premier, and by that means always having the command of the political situation. Mr. Tache thought such a demand preposterous, but it cannot succeed. He is willing to let the Lower Canada majority choose of themselves who would make up their cabinet.

COOPER DISCOVERED IN MADDON.

Mr. Wood, Warden of the County, and Mr. Hayes, County Land Agent at Madson, showed us a few days ago some very good specimens of copper ore taken by the miners in the hill on which the residence of Mr. Hayes stands. There seems to be every reason to think that this is the outcropping of a vein of copper ore, and the matter will be soon determined, as Mr. Hayes has engaged men to do it.

In this connection we may mention that the proprietors of the Lake Copper Mine, located in the village of Madson, and intend putting on energy, not only that the snow will soon be out of the way.

The Marmora Iron Company are talking of starting the works at Marmora as soon as the roads are settled, and they have given us the best evidence of their intentions by putting up about $200 of back taxes upon their property.

The following is an extract from a letter written by Rev. C. C. Velver, to the "Reverend Father" at Hastings, on the 1st of April, 1864.

A BENEFACTOR.

Just open the door for her, and Mrs. Winslow will prove to you that the Florence Nightingale of the Nurses. Of this we are so sure, that we will show her for helping her to survive and escape the grave, coldness and death. It performs precisely what it promises to perform, every part of "Dancing," "Drops," "Laudanum," and every other medicine, and is a great blessing to the sick and infirm, and rendered ill-and-sick for life.

We have never seen Mrs. Winslow know her patients with greater sympathy and interest than for Children Training. If had the power, we

THE HASTINGS CHRONICLE.

For the Hastings Chronicle
Lines on the death of Alvin H. Bush.

She is gone—my sweet no more;
She has faded from my sight;
Why leave my life so early so soon?
She is gone—my life is light.

She is gone—no more—no lips of truth
To speak the words of love and hope;

She is gone—my love and hope;

She is gone—my sweet no more;

For we have had mutual love and mine,

Those happy days are over;

She is gone—no more—no words can bring

Back when sleep has fled,

No more—no more—no more;

She is gone—my name,

She is sleeping with the dead.

She is gone—my lovely partner

Will share my joys no more;

Her love is gone—her God;

On Canaan's happy shore.

She is free from all temptation

And all the joys of heaven.

Ever since she left me,

She is sleeping with the dead.

She is gone—my darling,

Sweet as the sun of life,

And in her eyes a sweet strain,

And wist for me above.

Youth, virtue, beauty, love and song—

She can e'er fill her place to me!

Who else answers— who!

She's gone—her sweet mother,

She's gone—her sweet home;

There is a little boy.

She left to cheer my way.

May she rest in peace near

Me and my little band.

Until we all meet at last

With the angels in the cloud.

She's gone—such a sweet pillow

No more her head to rest;

She can never kiss my kin,

My love and care are over;

She's gone—no more—no more;

But when temptation's hour

She's gone—no more—no more;

She's gone—no more—
